

RABBINICAL COLLEGE OF LONG ISLAND

TEXTBOOK INFORMATION

Rabbinical College of Long Island offers a highly specialized program of study in Talmud and related subjects. All textbooks are readily available for use on open stacks in the study hall and school library. Students who wish to purchase their own copies of the texts studied may purchase them from one of the local Judaic bookstores stores in the area. Many students prefer to have their own Gemarah which costs between $20-$50, depending on the publisher and edition, and a Kovetz Miforshim which costs between $25-$45, a Mishna Brurah which costs between $14-$18, and a Mikraos Gedolos Chumash which costs between $20-$45. Most texts used in the program are reprints of the Talmud and other classical texts that do not have ISBN numbers.
